Inspired from video gaming, BobBomb came as a request. Loads into the scene just forward of center. Parts are numbered to ensure that parenting works properly. This give you the ability to move or extend the feet, wind the key, move eyes from side to side and up / down. Also you have the option to leave components out of the scene. View the video to see how to pose the prop with the parameter dials. Shown in poser. Daz users may have to re-parent the parts after loading into the scene. All parts parent to the head. Tags: daz
