Tracks: 1. The Fan - 60 Minutes of Ambient Oscillating Fan Sounds About 5 years ago I recorded a fan as a joke for a friend. he slept with a fan all though college to drown out the noise of the dormitory. He told me that his wife wouldnt let him sleep with the fan on in the bedroom, because it froze him out. Later my buddy came back to me and said that his brother wanted a copy. After that, I was starting to get a few requests for copies here and there. About that time, I left the relaxation CD business and shelved THE FAN. Later when I started producing the relaxation sounds as .mp3 downloads, I was talking about my new business to my friend Wendy and told her about The Fan. She thought it was the greatest idea and offered to paint the cover art if I put The Fan into download form. As you can see, her work is incredible!. She is a talented artist and you need to see her work at wendyarundel.com. Recording the fan was a challenge. I bought a lot of old fans on Ebay, retro models from retails stores and even thought of building a fan to get the sound that I wanted. Sound recording is a science! It is not easy to do. I used a Neuman TLM-103 large condenser microphone placed at many different angles to get that perfect fan. Months, many fans and many sound studios later, I got the sound I wanted. I am sure it is the sound you want too. Finally, The Fan and The Ten Minute Relaxation CD is narrated and/or recorded by national voice actor Nelson May, who has over ten years of experience relaxing and motivating groups and individuals.
