If you want to drive visitors to your site and make a profit, you need to purchase good content. You cannot develop good content entirely on your own. That's it! You cannot develop good content entirely on your own! Accept that fact and stop trying to write 10 articles or blog posts per day so that you can have good content for your website. Even if you wrote 10 articles per day, your website would be choked out by competing websites that churn out that amount in 5 minutes flat! Everyone who wants to go into the field of Internet marketing must learn how to leverage the expertise of other people.
