Dear Friend, Every successful online entrepreneur is aware of the importance of professional web graphics. These first impressions not only visually make a huge impact on your website, auction or blog, but they can actually influence customer decisions on whether to buy or not. This very point is emphasized in an issue of Entrepreneur Magazine: "Your goal should be to make me-your potential customer-confident that if I do business with you, I won't be disappointed. Design your site with trust in mind and you're more than halfway toward earning my business." The Sad Truth :- (The sad truth is that due to the the growing threat of online scams coupled with the anonymity of the internet, honest businesses actually have to earn customer trust before the sales process even begins. Ask yourself this: Are your graphics actually costing your website business instead of increasing it? The proper web graphics can not only enhance the user experience for your website but also help to solidify your business as an authoritative source for your niche. My Personal Story I had been selling various products on the auction website eBay for some time and eventually reached the level of Powerseller status. When I became an eBay Powerseller, I began proudly displaying the Powerseller icon in all my auctions. And know what? == Sales increased. I began showing off the fact that my sites accept Paypal. And guess what? == Again. Sales increased! Just by just adding a single tiny web graphic to my website salespage informing customers that 100 secure checkout was offered through the webpage, my own conversions took off. Basically what I'm trying to illustrate with these examples is that with the addition of one or two graphics images you can gain the level of trust and confidence needed to land your sale. So I decided to hire a professional graphic designer to create special web elements that would earn customer trust and compel them to buy.
