

Mp3 Toni Sar'h Petrinovich, Ph.d. - Dna Re-awakening

DOWNLOAD HERE

Re-Awaken the dormant DNA codings that give you access to your clairsentient abilities, align your immune system and activate your connection to the Omniverse. 1 MP3 Songs NEW AGE: Meditation, NEW AGE: Healing Details: I do not remember a time when I was not working spiritually, either healing or holding sacred space with and for someone. Beginning with the death of my father at age 5, I held the space of unity for the family home for my mother and younger sister. My early foundation in the world of spirituality was begun in the Catholic Church and continued as a member of the Holy Order of MANS in San Francisco, CA. I went on to receive my Doctorate Degree in metaphysical counseling from the University of Metaphysics in Los Angeles and was ordained as a minister. I enhanced my natural healing abilities by extensive Reiki training under the tutelage of the Universal Reiki Association as a Traditional Teacher of the Usui method. It is a perfect fit for my intuitive abilities that compliment the Reiki energetic healing techniques bringing to my clients a compassionate approach to issue resolution. I was born with the innate ability to see beyond the physical realm and combine my gifts with these healing modalities to empower people to improve their own lives and bring them more in tune with their own truth and the Creative Source. People often ask me what I believe in. My answer is nothing. Believing in something means that you do not KNOW it and if you do not know it, why are you being it, living it, doing it? So, I do not believe in anything. What do I know? I know that we are made of energy and that energy has a consciousness. I know that the total consciousness of all of the energy that exists is so much bigger and expansive than we can realize that we are overwhelmed by the prospect. I know that many people want to worship that consciousness and find a place to submit hopes and expectations as well as find something to obey so they will not have to be responsible for who and what they are. These people call this consciousness God and they love it, fear it, and do not know that they are one with it. I all ways come from the center of my own consciousness knowing that this is the place where you and I are one because all consciousness exists together. So, if I need or want to know something for or about you at your request, I have only to ask myself what you need or want and then listen. I refer to this as listening to your soul because it is your soul fabric that holds your needs, your desires, your fears and all of your history.

Working in the unified field of energy and matter with other beings, helping co-creators to realize that you are indeed one in consciousness with whatever your idea of Source is and showing you how to allow joy, peace and freedom into your life is my greatest love and gift. I am in the deepest gratitude, sharing these blessings, moment to moment, in every day. The Violet Flame is a multidimensional, transformational vibration emanating from the 7th Ray. It creates a frequency of freedom, purification and redemption. Through the use of ritual and ceremony, the Violet Flame is called upon to etherialize that which has completed its service in any realm. It uses the sacred fire through intention, thought and word to transmute and transform material into a more perfect, etheric form. At present, this manifestation of the 7th Ray is on earth to assist mankind in re-cognizing its manifestation as Source Consciousness. Man is God in the flesh. Through the Violet Flame, the transmutation of forgiveness is felt and created. By invocation, an individual may use this fire to call down to himself the power of the Creative Source to change the energy of any interaction into the pure Source energy of absolution and perfect order. This attribute creates an invitation to eternal cosmic service as the individual continues on the path of personal spiritual development. Embodying this 7th ray attribute, I create a unified field of multidimensional energy enabling an individual working with me to transmute the dross material of the earth plane into the amethyst of healing. This transformational energy purifies and redeems the soul fabric resurrecting and perfecting the soul in its travels on earth. As the energy inherent in the individual's etheric field is aligned with the vibration of forgiveness it etherializes the heavier weight of the earth plane and allows the welcoming change of cosmic service to become a reality in life. Within this transformational vibration lies the foundation of Arcturus, the Heavenly Blue Gate, mankind's point of entry and passage to the next dimension. The Violet Flame creates an ubiquitous frequency shift within the Merkaba of man allowing entry through this portal carried deep within the fiber of my being.

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals: