PureWhiteNoise.com is an audio research and development company studying white noise and its many applications and benefits to children and adults since 1985. As audio specialists, we combine the science of both sound and relaxation technology with the art of white noise, to promote relaxation and sleep in both children and adults. In addition, our pure white noise is carefully calibrated to provide optimum sound masking benefits as well as offer help to those suffering with symptoms of Tinnitus, Mnire's Disease, Hyperacusis, ADD/ADHD and infants displaying the symptoms of Colic. Our audio engineers, sound technicians and talented composers have developed pure white noise CD products, relaxation and sleep music, lullabies and nursery rhyme products that have been embraced and used by hundreds of thousands of satisfied customers who have purchased our specialty pure white noise CDs in the USA and worldwide.
