"Behind a mop of black, curly hair, forever-in-motion singer Larry Florman grooves and shakes as if he's trying to conjure the dead. In his solo debut, Larry Florman (aka Brother Love) is all energy and heart; groove and iridescence, and somehow comes off both innocent and dirty, knowing and surprised, laughing, and broken-hearted. And that's Brother Love. It's good time music with edge, the blues as played by a drummer with wild red eyes. Larry Florman will put you under his spell--and you'll thank him--because all he wants from you is to wake up and dance." Ben Kaplan New York Magazine
