Ms. New has a history of producing a unique blend of Arts Activism, starting with Project Booklift, a nationwide project which airlifted 400,000 books to the new democracies of Eastern Europe. New was awarded the Santa Barbara Woman of the Year for 1995 and the Soroptimists Woman of Distinction in Los Angeles and Santa Barbara in 1993. In David Forwards book Heroes After Hours in which she is featured, she is described as a woman who makes things happen. Creator/Producer of many national and international projects, she has been producing many different kind of artistic projects for 30 years. Terri has been a singer-songwriter-recording artist for 30 years and her arranger/partner is Bob Esty who has produced the likes of Barbara Striesand, Bette Middler, Donna Summer, Cher, Julio Iglesias to name a few. As a playwright, in 1990 Terri wrote and produced with Bob, Voices of the Velvet Revolution at the Wilshire Ebel Theater. They took the show to Europe with Poet, James Ragan, a Pulitzer Prize nominee with Terri performing the songs of the show.

She has recently been getting airplay in London on SW Radio Africa for a song she wrote and recorded Zimbabwe Drums. This song features the musical talents of many well-known international musicians including Castle Wall, the famed horn section on Michael Jackson's Thriller album. Denny Seiwell (credits include Joe Cocker, Wings, Pablo Cruise) Bassist, Bob Glaub (credits include Jackson Brown), percussionist Bill Summers (credits include Herbie Hancock) and on Drums, Rick Slazer (credits include James Taylor, Rod Stewart). Terri's backup singers include Beth Anderson who is known for her vocals on the Never Ending Story theme song. Terri was also invited to sing at President Havel's (the playwright President from the Czech Republic) convocation at UCLA Royce Hall, Los Angeles, CA. Terri also performed as the headliner for fundraising efforts for Childhelp USA in Montecito, CA at the Music Academy to sold out performances. In 1991 she created a documentary Rebirth of a Nation, and associate-produced this with KEYT, an ABC affiliate, this won the Golden Mic Award for best documentary. She produced a project in India on Rotary International's Group Study Exchange (GSE) and shot footage for the Rotary Polio Plus Campaign. As a Producer, Writer and Videographer she specializes in creating multi-media applications for the new technologies using video, the World Wide Web, and CD-ROM/DVD. Terri has spent the last 15 years developing a theater arts curriculum, an educational-entertainment family curriculum project in a multi-media venue. This is an activity-oriented series with a creative musical theater emphasis and incorporates the use of the World Wide Web, CD-ROM DVD in engaging active participation from its viewers. Terri also served as associate producer of an educational video series with The California Seafood Council (CSC), about "Fisher Folk" in collaboration with the California State School of Education. She also composed and produced the musical score for the series. Terri produced a CD-ROM highlighting the work of internationally renowned photographer Emil Muench. Terri also produced three CD-ROM and a DVD projects on the Fishing Industry. Among projects currently in production are several promotional CD-ROM/DVD projects for African Companies highlighting the safari industry. As well as a series, Master Teachers of American Theater shot in NY City and at the Yale campus in Connecticut with notables of the theater world as Earle Gister and Ming Cho Lee, and their impact on several generations of American actors. Ms. New has concentrated her talents on the continent of Africa for the last four years producing several promotional projects for the Safari Industry. Terri has recently moved to beautiful Prescott, Arizona where she is creating a multimedia production facility on her ranch to continue her development and production of her theater and cultural arts curriculum. Terri started INCITE Production in 1996 to "incite" creativity!..Especially in the schools where arts budgets have gone nothing but down. Terri, if nothing but tenacious, she finished the first volume of this project title on Mothers Day 2007. She felt it fitting as she feels all kids are her kids....And this is, in essence her gift to kids.
