Details: Joe Landers (AKA Jurassic Joe) has taught music in schools for the last twelve years. In writing this collection of songs, he has drawn on his knowledge of childrens' music and of the Primary School syllabus to create melodies that are easy for children to follow, with words that support their learning at school. The world of dinosaurs is full of so many things to learn about. Two years ago, Joe knew very little about dinosaurs, but, with much encouragement from his son, Oak (7), he has read and watched probably every dinosaur book, video, CD-Rom and website available. Learning about these beasts is so much easier and so much more fun when you can sing about it.
