"Mantra Girl" is the first album of its kind: a celebration of the art and science of Mantra that is highly accessible to a mainstream audience. This album has something for everyone! ABOUT THE ARTISTS: ERIN KAMLER has been singing, chanting and practicing Kundalini Yoga for over eight years. A native of Ann Arbor, MI, Erin began her career in musical theatre and went on to compose and sing off-Broadway, on numerous albums and in commercials throughout New York and Los Angeles. Her passion for the art of meditative chanting can be heard in live performances throughout the country. ADAM SMALLEY has contributed his musical expertise to record production and film music for over ten years. As a film score producer, music supervisor and music editor, his work ranges from projects such as "Thin Red Line" and "Gladiator" to "The Lion King" and "The Prince of Egypt." As a songwriter, his music can be heard in "A Knight's Tale," a film that fostered a successful collaboration with Dan Powell, and on numerous records and commercials. A native of Los Angeles, Adam is proud to make "Mantra Girl" his chanting debut. DAN POWELL lends his creativity to records, commercials and films throughout Europe and the United States. An extensive world traveler, he has gathered musical influences from Africa, India and Southeast Asia, where he developed a specific interest in Indonesian Gamelon music. Based in London, Dan has worked as a sound designer and composer for over fifteen years.
