Warm, smooth electronic downtempo, nostalgic and fresh, blending funky breaks and acoustic instruments with subtle tasty female vocals. 15 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Down Tempo, ELECTRONIC: Breakbeat/Breaks Details: Born in Brighton, England and now hailing from Western Canada, Phontaine released 'aqui' in late 2001 under the name 'earball'. The appeal of the album reached all over the globe. "I just tried to make something familiar but fresh, something I'd like to listen to". Phontaine doesn't take a conventional approach to creating music; " I don't listen to music as most people do, I've always absorbed tones and timbres before notes and arrangement. I blend instruments, ambience and sounds and maintain the sonic quality of their era. I hope this brings a sense of nostalgia to the listener." "It's electronic music for sure, but less abrasive than alot of the stuff out there, I want it to sound as warm and authentic as possible, like warm 70's electronic music but with some new modern tones mixed in." After the indie success of 'aqui', Phontaine had songs released on the compilations 'Blue Light One' (Upstairs Recordings/Nettwerk) and 'Global Groove'(Sugo Music) alongside Thievery Corporation. The self-titled cd 'phontaine'(brighton sound recordings/Position) is his latest release. " I worked with some amazing musicians on this album, Nadia Clark (vocals) Ben Karcz and Chris Ledrew (Percussion) and Rob Johnson (stand-up bass). Without them this disc would not have such great 'humonic' feel. I also did alot of field recordings when traveling that I mixed in to certain tracks, it can add an amazing depth to a song. His tracks can also be heard on film and T.V (Sacred Planet IMAX,Las Vegas, Tru Calling, Kevin Hill).
