Wurkt is Modern Rock, Alternative Metal, Hard Melodic New Rock 11 MP3 Songs METAL: Alternative Metal, ROCK: Modern Rock Details: WURKT came together in 1999 after relocating to the bay area. Josh Robinson (Vocals), Toby Seeger (Guitar), Guy Gates (Bass, Back up Vocals) Geoff Eckert (Drums) and new rhythm guitar player Drew Cianciolo compose this quintet from Sacramento. Original Deftones manager Dave Park helped get WURKT a Roadrunner Records Demo (Ego, Faithful, Misdirected, Opie) deal recorded at Pus Cavern North with Joe Johnston. This demo got the attention of Josh Abraham renowned producer best known for his work with Staind, Korn, Limp Bizkit and Orgy. The demo also got them airplay on San Francisco's premier rock station LIVE105, with the track "Ego". The band recorded an 11 track album (Produced by Josh Abraham and mixed by Andy Wallace who is known for work with System of a Down) that would be dragged through Warner Bros. label (143 records) politics for nearly a year. While struggling for rights to their album, WURKT released the "WURKT EP, ONE" in early 2002. The Ep takes listeners through tantalizing vocals and melodic riffs backed by powerful drumming. The Ep differs from WURKT's original recordings, but keeps parts of the original formula while still progressing musically. Powerful original songs (Teen Porn, Freshman, Pull Over Here and Choke) and an outstanding cover of LL Cool J's "Mama said knock you out". The cover song combines the aggression and originality of WURKT's musical talents. Josh demonstrates his different talents as a vocalist from straight up amazing vocals to screaming and even incorporating his own aggressive style of rap. The instrumentals are well put together, including melodic, crunching riffs combined with striking basslines and impeccable drumming. As of January 25th, 2003 WURKT has had their long awaited album tentively titled "Better In Two Weeks" available for order in the merchandise section of their website and available for purchase at shows (coming to stores soon.) The album is on independent release due to the fallout with Warner. The album once again showcases WURKT's talents backed up by powerful lyrics that come to life as the album progresses. The album demonstrates the different emotions from pain to hope and everything in between all delivered with intensity. WURKT remains with similar formulas, but still manage to mix it up ranging from the loud, in your face track of "Make Amends" to the mellow, emotion filled track "Daughter's Eyes".

Tracks for the album include Faithful, Ego, Closet, Foreskin, Daughter's Eyes, Split, Make Amends, The Angels, Sex, Jimmy and the single "Spanish Fly". WURKT relentlessly tours on the west coast and will continue to in support of the album. They are constantly working on new material and involving it into their sets. They have played shows with bands such as Cold, Trapt and Otep among others. Josh Robinson - vocals Toby Seeger - guitars Guy Gates - bass Geoff Eckert - drums Drew Cianciolo - guitars
