BIO Sacha Nairobi has one of those voices that make us tremble with love and desire, filling us with laughter and irony, knowing that life as it is, can be sung. She uses the same words we use when we speak but places them in her own special order, weaving them with music. Her messages of everyday life and intimate issues come from a woman of great sensibility, delivered in a festive tone even if they can make you cry. This exceptional album, a collection of intense tracks from a young lady whose life is surrounded with poetry, follows the path that her instrument (the Cuatro) leads her through. When it comes to her music, there are a variety of rhythms that move us; the festive ones, the melancholic ones, the intimate ones and those filled with the irony of losing a lover to a fake blond called Raquel. Her deep sensuality celebrates the joys of skin on skin touch in the songs Que Rico Me Amas and Nadie Mejor que Tu. Her moving song, La Loteria touches on a social issue that concerns those who have come to this country from other lands. Each lyric takes us there and brings us back with a delicious flow of melody. The music in this production is at the forefront of its genre. Each melody is unique and fresh, executed as a Latin symphony by a talented band lead by Sacha Nairobi's tiny Cuatro. The Director is German Ortiz, an exceptional producer and the talent behind many hits by reputable artists. The first reaction as one listens to this work, is to smile from ear to ear. Unavoidably news will start traveling amongst friends a girl named Sacha Nairobi has released an amazing album! As if it wasn't enough, Sacha Nairobi is also a real treat to watch on stage.
