New-Wave inflected, melancholy electro-acoustic pop from one of NYC's best kept secrets. 11 MP3 Songs POP: with Electronic Production, ELECTRONIC: Pop Crossover Details: Expanding the palette from their first outing, Cellardoor returns to the studio with an expansive, melancholy sophomore effort. Featuring contributions from guitarists Ami and John Carlin and vocalist Jennifer Bechtel, "memo" is sure to bring Cellardoor's unique sound to the masses. Still churning out moody, catchy tunes, drew Edwards' songwriting remains as varied and dynamic as always. "soulless" and "the world was made to break my heart" are tracks that your CD collection is already yearning for. Adding layers of electric and acoustic guitars to their distinctive piano/synth sound, this LP continues to bridge the gap between pop and rock, acoustic and electronic, dance and ambient...optimism and cynicism. This is THE indie electro-acoustic pop album of the year. Don't miss it! FREE DOWNLOAD OF NEW SINGLE "SOULLESS" AT: cellardoorband.org
