Lyrics -Ahura Z.- Sometimes when we need it all our mental speed Seems to fade away because of memories of the past. If only the pain of what was done to you Could be washed away just like the person who hurt, oh hurt you. -Sinari- Light your candle, Then sit inside your sacred circle. Clap your hands Three times and bow to God and Goddess. Begin your chant, First slowly, then increase your speed. Repeat it seven Times seven, then another three. Let your head Keep rhythm while you speak the words. If you lose count Don't worry, you'll know when the spell is finished. Lift your voice And know that Goddess will fulfill your need. If you be daring Then speak these words and obtain mental speed! Chorus (repeat) Matchless is my speed of mind I shall leave my past behind. Further, further from my thoughts Are those things which come to naught. Fire, fire, burn my foes 'Till they loose me from my woes. From all danger set me free Only peace resides in me!
