Maybe she doesn't have to. Steffen Andrews (Writer / Producer) Steffen Andrews has worked as a low-level undercover operative, classical ballet dancer, medical researcher and modestly successful entrepreneur. Five Sexual Position was written during a difficult period in his life. Says Andrews, "At the time I wrote Five Sexual Positions, I was trapped in an unhappy marriage. All I could do was imagine and fantasize about the sexuality and sex lives of other women." Steffen is now happily single and lives in Denver, Colorado. Kage Gatsby (Narrator) Kage is a talented singer, songwriter and composer. She is a graduate of the Northern Colorado University with a degree in operatic voice. Kage lives in New York City and most recently performed at the storied lower east side club, CBGB's. Kage and Steffen met quite by chance in a Denver coffee house where she was working. A witty, off-hand remark in a perfect Irish brogue was all it took to make Andrews realize that the orange-haired girl behind the counter had more to offer than just a foamy medium skim vanilla latte. What originally was a voice-over job turned into an intense collaboration with Kage serving as Steffen's confidant, editor, and finally, muse.
