Details: Ndelible Ndelible is a band determined to be different and set apart. Drawing from all types of musical influences and styles, they hope to make their mark globally. The band was started in 2005 by the lead vocalist David James. David James who had been rapping since the age of 12, felt led to do something different, so he connected with guitar player, Myron Qdot Mullon, and drummer, Ron B, setting the foundation for Ndelible. David had already been heavily influenced by great songwriters like Tommy Sims and Lauryn Hill. He was also influenced by great bands like the Roots and The Dave Matthews Band. Qdot (Lead Guitar) brought a heavy rock and Ron (Percussion) a Jazz/Experimental soul influence to mix. They later hooked up with Joe Robinson (Bass) who has a heavy Neo Soul influence. David James writes songs about life and love, but from the perspective of someone who walks with God. A fan appropriately called the album's content "Life Music".
