"Though it involves music, the ancient practice of kirtan is not about musical ability or training, it is about the heart. These ancient mantras from India contain powerful renewing and transformational energies that serve to reconnect us to the Eternal Being that lies within us all. All the mantras, melodies, and instruments are designed to lead us toward this meditative state... Kirtan has an organizing effect on the mind and body, and it offers a means of finding our way back to the core of our being, to our heart, and to the divine. - Ragani (copyrighted text excerpt from RaganiWorld.com) "Ragani, who has grown to become one of the nation's leading kirtan chanters, proves her worth with this exquisite collection of mantras a wonderful atmosphere for spiritual journeys and growth. -Music Design In Review
