Rare blues fiddle instrumental album. 11 MP3 Songs BLUES: Texas Style, BLUES: Folk-Blues Details: John Christian's first instrument was the violin, which he played from 4th grade up into the high school years. Switching to the bass guitar, then the six string. Ever since 9th grade John has played in bands. He has been in Rock and roll bands, country bands, variety bands, blues bands. This c.d. represents the musical journey John went on as he was learning to play the blues violin. A little raw in places, but very unique in it's scope. I think violin players will enjoy this c.d. as they contemplate the possibilities of the blues violin style, also blues lovers in general will enjoy this, as it is different from the usual instrumentation of the blues. The violin takes over the role of the blues guitar, and bends your expectations of what the blues is supposed to sound like. For example, the violin has a sweetness, as compared to the gutsiness of a guitar. Proceeds from this c.d. go to an actual living, creative human being that plans on investing in further explorations of this style, possibly a follow up c.d..
