You can make more profits from your biz right now, with just one little trick. Hi dear friend, You may be wondering what am I talking about. Well... I'm talking about being different. Yes, different In the private label and resell businesses we all have the same products with the same selling packs. And there are only a few things we can do to bring in more sales. In one word we should have different graphics, different sales letter and of course a different USP. Why? Because being different adds alot of value to your product. In fact it makes it look unique. Think about it like that: if you have a product from 2004 (let's say - not very old, not very new) and you have the same site as 200 other people who are selling it also, you think you can make lots of profits?
