The Savvy Marketers' "Piggyback" Method To Instant Success.. "Uncover The Closely Guarded Secrets To Exceptionally Profitable Joint Venture Partnerships That Will Instantly Triple Your Online Income!"

Dear Friend, If you are anything like me, your primary objective online is to make as much money as you can in as little time possible. You don't want to spend hours upon hours posting advertisements on classified websites, promoting your website with painfully slow methods nor do you want to leave money on the table simply because you hadn't thought of a way to maximize your online campaigns.. The Success Strategy Of The "Stars" You have undoubtedly heard about the astonishing profit potential from Joint Venture partnerships and you want in on the action. After all, it's been said that the fastest way to develop an online presence, establish a credible reputation and beef up your bottom line is by networking with those who have already carved out their names online and who know how to wring every last dime out of their marketing efforts. These guys (and girls) don't play around. When it comes to promoting online they know exactly how to set up a campaign that is guaranteed to be successful, because like you, they know that time really does mean money. The problem is, most new marketers or product developers have no idea how to approach a prospective JV partner, much less set up a deal or manage an offer effectively. Worse, there are many so called "gurus" that won't even consider running a JV campaign with a "newbie". After all, why would they bother working with a no-name when all they have to do is send out an email to their list and make a few hundred thousand overnight? Joint Ventures Are Not Just For The Gurus.. When I first got involved with Joint Ventures, I won't lie to you - I was terrified. I really didn't think I stood a chance of my offer being accepted, and since I was a complete 'nobody', I didn't have much confidence in my ability to convince the experienced marketers that I was targeting, to give me a shot or even take my offer seriously.. And I was right.. I must have blasted out 100 emails on my first day of seeking out possible Joint Venture partners. I figured that the more I sent out the greater the chances of someone reading my email and agreeing to work with me. After a few days of not receiving a single response, I decided to take a second, closer look at how I had set up my "JV system". Boy was I ashamed to admit it, but I had really messed things up .. in fact, the way that I had set up my offer in the first place left very little chance that anyone in their right mind would even give it a second glance. So, I went back to square one but this time I decided to study the people around me that had successfully set up Joint Venture after Joint Venture with what appeared to be very little effort. These guys just had to send out an email and within a few hours they were receiving requests for more information.. days later, they had a system set up and ready to roll.. a few days after that, they were patting each other on the back for a job well done while running off to cash their massive paychecks. It just didn't seem fair. The worst part of all this was that these people experiencing such incredible success with JV partnerships were brand new to the world of online business! These weren't experienced marketers with a household name or a product that was anything special. Yet, somehow they were able to attract the attention of the big dogs who were eager to work with them, time and time again. What was so extraordinary about these people? What were they doing that was so very different from the methods that I had been using (and failing miserably at)? My Initiation Into The Secret Underground World Of Successful JV Deals From The Rich And Famous.. When I took a closer look at just what these guys were doing, I was dumbfounded. Really.. I'm not usually one who's at a loss for words, but what I discovered was outright astonishing. By using a simple system that instantly generated offers so irresistible that even the most skeptical guru could never resist, they were able to cash in on as many JV partnerships as they could handle! But this system didn't come cheap.. With a bit of a struggle and some creativeness, I managed to get a copy of one of these proposals. I must admit, when I first read it I was amazed at not only the simplicity but in how incredibly witty these guys really were. They certainly had done their homework by creating "tailor made" offers that literally left the reader overwhelmed and impressed with no choice but to accept their offer, right there - on the spot. Once the JV was underway, these "newbies" were warmly welcomed into the inner circle and what began as one JV partnership quickly became two, then three.. four.. once word spread around that this guy knew exactly how to set up a widely successful Joint Venture partnership, it seemed as though every guru in his industry was jumping on board to set up a future deal with him. And so, I followed along.. eagerly, a strong believer in the old adage that "you shouldn't reinvent the wheel". Okay, so in reality I was a bit lazy.. I took what had been designed and perfected by others and formatted it to fit my own industry. I modeled my JV offers after those who had done the research and spent weeks, if not months, studying the techniques that have played a part in multi-million dollar partnerships.
