Show Your Customers EXACTLY What You Want Them To See ...And Sky-Rocket Your Sales Through The Roof! Who Else Wants to Wow Every Visitor With Stunning, Top-Notch Multi-Media Streaming Video Presentations And Convert Each Of Them Into Buying Customers? How about offering click-by-click multi-media presentations of your desktop activity as you demonstrate and explain exactly how your product works? Its been proven. Presenting your customers with something they can actually see sky-rockets your sales I started using flash demonstrations on my web sites a few years ago. The first time I implemented them, I ordered demonstration manuals that actually didnt even have any audio, just demonstrations. Each set of videos would sometimes take weeks to develop and deliver. And yes, I had to cough up hundreds of dollars for each set. Nevertheless, when we put these on our customer support page, our support tickets dramatically reduced by as much as 50. These only /covered a few subjects on our web site; so over several months I ordered an almost complete set of every support issue I could think of. As a result, our support requests reduced by over 85 Dont forget, we still use these videos, although we are now slowly moving to the new generation full motion videos with audio, such as the ones made by Instant Video Suite. This gave us the opportunity to concentrate more on marketing and getting more sales; after all, there were hardly any support requests any more. Instant Video Suite videos even go a step further; you can record yourself via web cam as you explain and demonstrate click-by-click exactly how something works right on your desktop. Then produce an embedded web page ready to publish on your web site in one step. Just imagine the effect this will have on your current business or even a new venture whether in boosting sales, or for support purposes. We have now gone a step further. We just implemented these videos on a few of our web sites to boost our sales, and the results coming in are just amazing. In a few days Im going to update you on the exact figures and measurable results. For now, just suffice it to say... Our signups and sales are going wild And guess what? No more waiting for weeks No more paying hundreds and hundreds of $$$ as someone else prepares flash videos for you YOU show them and tell them exactly what you want to yourself No more complicated technical knowledge and expertise needed Simple, do-it-yourself, top quality action videos in just a few minutes

Tuesday, February 02, 2010 The best part is, you no longer have to part with thousands of dollars to get these presentations done for you. Even if you previously chose to do it yourself, you still had to buy separate EXPENSIVE software products to put recorded streaming video and screen captured desktop activity into your web site. In fact you had to spend over $500 to do all this. And even then, none of these products came anywhere close to what Instant Video Suite does for you at just a fraction of the cost. And you still had to have some technical expertise, and go through a couple of steps before you could produce the final videos. Its as easy as 1-2-3! If you can turn on your computer, you can use the power of Instant Video Suite to super-charge your web site. You do not need any technical expertise to: P.S. - Remember we cannot guarantee this price much longer. Get it right now before the price goes back to $249. P.S.S. - Also remember that every minute you wait is crucial - the longer you wait to get your hands on Instant Video Suite, the more valuable customers you are missing out on, and the more money you lose! Plus, tomorrow you might not find Instant Video Streamer as a bonus!
